

TASTEPROV
A PASSION FOR PROVIDENCE

City Girl Cupcake

By Ken, August 25, 2011, In Cafes

Home » Cafes » City Girl Cupcake

It's not wrong to indulge every now and then. To find a justification for that indulgence is the trick. City Girl Cupcakes gives you the greatest excuse there is: a good cause!

City Girl Cupcake donates a portion of their proceeds and their nightly leftovers to different charities in Providence. Though the storefront may seem small, the cupcake variety is huge – with over 50 flavors and counting. The cases are filled with beautiful works of culinary art. The cupcakes are baked daily by City Girl’s very own Cupcake-ologist, pastry Chef Liz Reinhardt, a recent graduate of Johnson and Wales University.

These cupcakes are decadent! They are dense and moist and are topped with flavorful homemade frostings. The combinations of different cupcake and frosting flavors truly compliment each other in exciting new ways. With each bite you can taste the richness, moistness and intricate amount of detail that Chef Reinhardt puts into each cupcake.

So if you are looking for a guilt-free treat you A.) Become a food blogger ;) or B.) Go to City Girl Cup Cake!

Compliment Sandwich:

Positive: Unique little storefront unlike anyplace else in Providence

Negative: Can be a bit pricey

Positive: You get what you pay for – an excellent cupcake

Website: <http://www.citygirlcupcake.com/>

Phone: 401-580-1271

Address: 99 Weybosset Street
Providence, RI 02903